INTERNATIONAL SECURITY FAIR ESS+

With 32 years of experience, the ESS+ International Security Fair is the leading event in Latin America and the regional benchmark for the electronic security, cybersecurity, fire protection, industrial safety, and access control sectors.

Each year in Bogotá, the top global brands, integrators, authorities, and industry professionals gather to showcase cutting-edge solutions, discover new technologies, and connect with decision-makers from the Andean region and Central America.

More than a trade show, ESS+ is the business, innovation, and knowledge platform that drives the development and transformation of the comprehensive security industry in Latin America.

What Makes ESS+ Unique

The fair where end-user industries are also the main players

At ESS+, la innovación no solo se exhibe: se prueba, se adopta y se transforma en soluciones reales.

Unlike other events in the sector, ESS+ brings together the entire integral security value chain on a single stage:

- Manufacturers and technology developers
- Specialized integrators and distributors
- End-user industries, represented by companies and institutions from sectors such as infrastructure, energy, banking, retail, transportation, healthcare, education, and government, among others.

This model makes ESS+ a unique business platform where conversations between those who create technology and those who implement it drive new alliances, strategic projects, and real growth opportunities.

Here, supply meets demand.
Innovation connects with need.
And the security market moves forward together toward the future.

¿Why Colombia?

The Epicenter of Security in Latin America

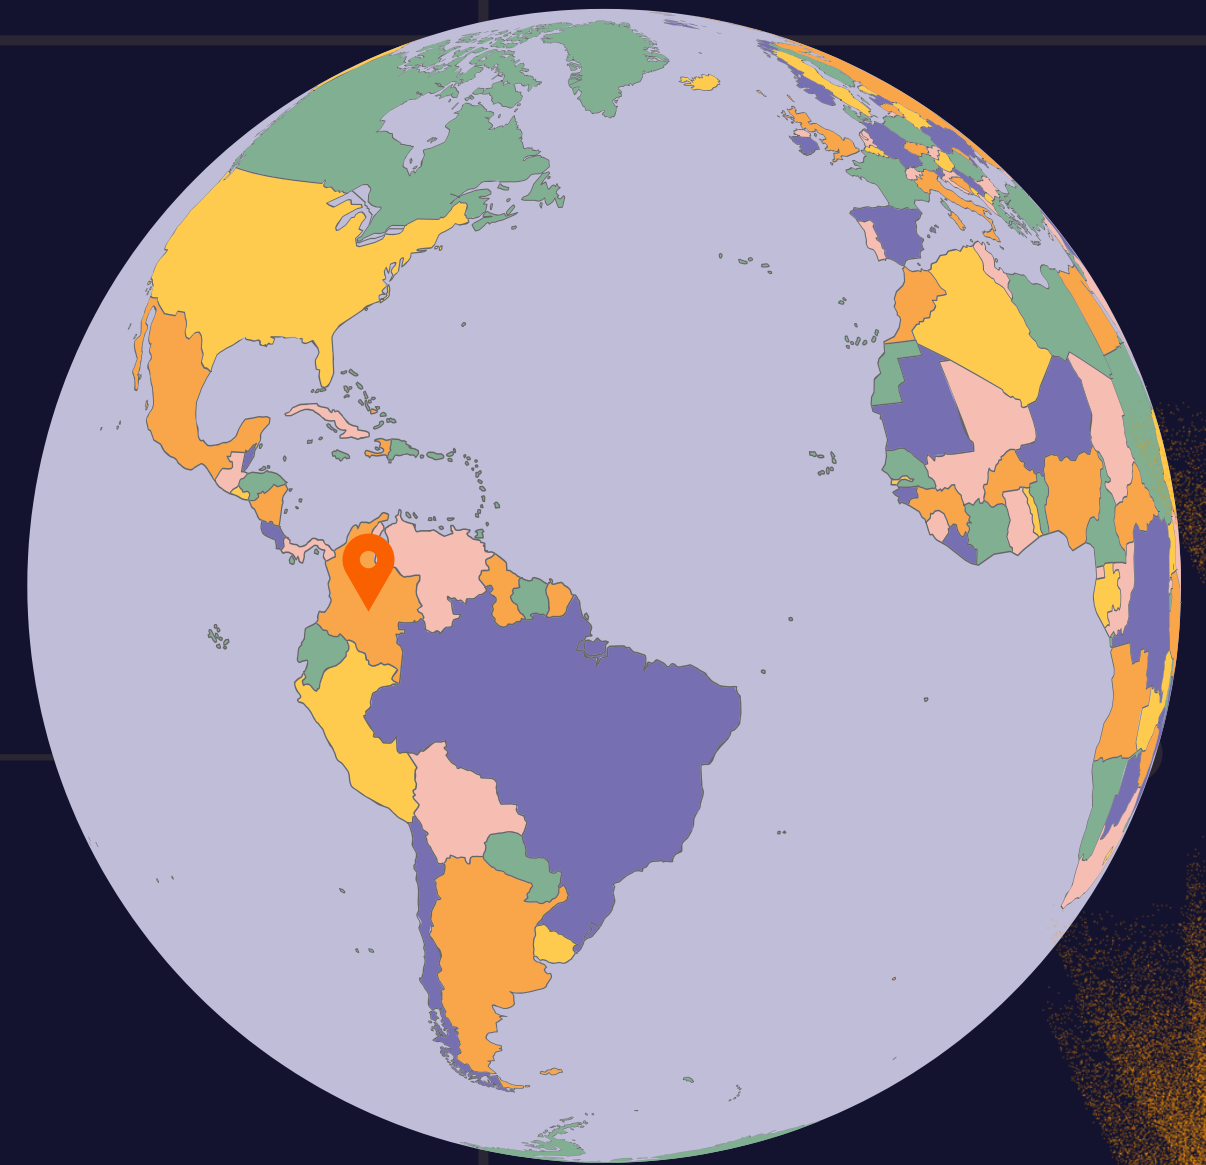

The gateway to regional security markets

Colombia has established itself as the hub of comprehensive security in Latin America, and ESS+ is its flagship platform.

Strategically located between Central America, the Caribbean, and the Andean region, it offers:

- ✈ Direct air connectivity
- 👷♂ Qualified human talent
- 💻 Technological infrastructure
- 🔧 High demand for solutions
- 📈 A growing business environment

Participating in ESS+ in Colombia is a unique strategic opportunity for companies seeking to expand their international presence and access a dynamic market with high demand for technology, certifications, and smart solutions.

Competitive Advantages for International Companies

Direct access to an expanding market.

Latin America is increasing its investment in electronic security, cybersecurity, industrial protection, and critical infrastructure.

ESS+ connects brands with buyers, distributors, and integrators from the Andean region, Central America, and the Caribbean.

Ideal Platform for Strategic Alliances

A space to build distribution networks, local representation, and technological cooperation, reducing entry barriers and accelerating regional expansion.

Presence of End-User Industries

Unlike other trade shows, ESS+ also brings together end users and decision-makers, generating high-value connections and real business opportunities.

Positioning and Technological Leadership

International companies find in ESS+ an ideal stage to present innovation, strengthen their reputation, and position themselves as leaders in reliable, sustainable, and certified technology.
